MUGGLENET RECEIVES A LOST BOOK

Does It Contain An HPQuest Clue?

Mugglet May Hold The Key to HP Quest Wk 6.

BY ARTHUR ACRONYM, STAFF REPORTER

HP Fan Trips Tribune has just learned that a book has been delivered to Andrew Sims of Mugglenet. Many wizards believe this book may hold the clue HP Questers will need to begin their new quest on April 15.

The book, "Magic Charms 101," is apparently one of the overdue library books that young wizarding student, Wilson Mallad (aka Wizarding Wilson) has had in his possession since the quest began.

Mallad has taken to sending out his books to vigilant questers in his attempt to help them solve the mysteries of the HP Quest.

This particular book seems to be secured by a lock. HP Fan Trips was able to reach Wilson by phone to ask him about this lock. "All I can say is that the key that fits this lock features a 'perfect number' which is to say that the numbers of letters it takes to spell this number are exactly the same as the number itself," said Mallad. He refused to elaborate further on this rather confusing clue.

This is the mysterious book delivered to the Mugglenet Team. Many believe this book may hold the next clue in the HP Fan Trips' HP Quest. To listen, visit <http://www.mugglenet.com/mugglecast>

The wizarding world can only hope that Andrew and his team at Mugglenet can decipher which key is needed to open the box and that they can share the riddle they find with other HP Questers.

HPQuest Week 6 begins on Tuesday, April 15 at noon Eastern Standard Time. Questers will begin their search at www.hpfantrips.com/hpquest
